To Professor Henry E. Richards, B.S., M.S., Associate Professor in Electrical Engineering, who, through his instruction, advice and assistance, has been instrumental in the preparation of the students of the University for their future endeavors, We, The Class of 1950-C, dedicate this book.

Professor Richards received his B.S.E.E. from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1918, and in 1938 he received his M.S.E.E. He is a member of Tau Beta Pi and Eta Kappa Nu honor societies for engineers. At present he is engaged in revising Lawrence's "Principles of Alternating Current Machinery," one of the foremost books in its field. He is past president of the Faculty Club, and was faculty advisor to Phi Gamma Pi.

In November, 1921, he was asked to accept a temporary position on the teaching staff to fill in for a member of the faculty on leave due to illness. Five years, and many lectures later, he realized that he had found his first love in teaching.

His home life in Melrose follows the regular pattern of sincere living he displays at the University. He has an ardent interest in all sports and inclines to good music and plays. His major hobby is raising racing pigeons and entering them in competition with his neighbors.

His congeniality, sense of humor, and keen interest in youth have helped to make our years at Northeastern University both profitable and enjoyable. His positive attitude and honest, forthright efforts have made him an example of integrity most highly respected by his classes, and will continue to be an inspiration for students in the years to come.

"Learning should be a continuing process. Formal education is only a very appreciable lift along the way. Additional reading, observation and experience must be added. The whole needs to be subjected to thoughtful analysis and applied to some useful end. Then learning becomes a satisfying, enjoyable and valuable pursuit."

Carl Stephens Ell

A.B., M.S., Ed.M., Sc.D.

PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY

The President's Message

Today as I write this message you are still students. Tomorrow you will be graduates of Northeastern, representing the University in the community, showing by example the kind of institution Northeastern is, and demonstrating the value of its service.

You, as alumni, have a right to expect certain things of your University; your University, in turn, has a right to expect certain things of you.

You have a right to expect your Alma Mater to be interested in and concerned about the continued growth and development, the achievements and successes of its graduates; ready to offer opportunities for you to share in the life of the University through conferences, convocations, committees, and alumni activities.

You have a right to expect your University to be a growing institution: to maintain its prestige and educational standing; to be alert to note and flexible to meet the needs of a changing society; to develop programs essential to effective undergraduate teaching; to keep abreast of social, economic, political, and educational changes, and to bring these developments to bear upon the work at Northeastern.

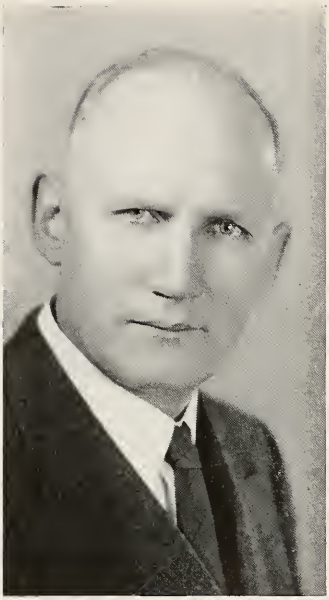
Above all, you have a right to expect your Alma Mater to continue to turn out competent and well-trained graduates who will become able members of society and assume the responsibilities of good citizens.

Your University has a right to expect its graduates to be loyal members of the Northeastern family: to attend University activities and functions when possible; to participate in meetings of the Alumni Association and the Regional Clubs; to serve on committees and to share in all alumni activities; to direct to the institution desirable applicants; to enhance opportunities for co-operative students and graduates.

Above all, your University has a right to expect its graduates to be a credit to their families, to their communities, and to their Alma Mater.

May the members of the Class of 1950 never forget that—

"To each man is given a marble to carve for the wall:
A stone that is needed to heighten the beauty of all;
And only his soul has the magic to give it grace;
And only his hands have the cunning to put it in place."



In Memoriam

CHARLES FREDERICK BARNASON

1886-1949

Member of the Faculty in 1937; Professor of Modern Languages and Chairman of the Department from 1938 to 1949.

A teacher who through earnestness, devotion to the study of languages, and interest in intellectual accomplishment made a significant contribution to the academic work of students and to the early development of the College of Liberal Arts.

Our Class Advisor

Mr. Carlo Gubellini, our class advisor, graduated with honor from Northeastern in 1943. He was appointed Instructor in Business Management at N. U. in 1946.

A resident of Medford, Mr. Gubellini attended Boston Latin School. He still hasn't stopped going to school, having received his M.B.A. from Boston University in 1949. He is now studying for his doctorate at B. U.

Class History

By ROBERT H. SPRENGER

A memorandum from the Freshman Class Advisor to Professor Parsons, written in April of 1946, contains the following phrases: "1950A will graduate in June, 1948, because the group will operate under a special Co-op plan in conjunction with a full-time plan for the last two years . . . 1950C (present Division C plus D and E) will operate on the regular post-war Co-op plan and graduate in June, 1950 . . . The proper disposition of the two full-time groups, one in Class A and one in Class C can be made, I am sure. The Class of 1950A, for instance, can become part of the Class of 1949C inasmuch as they graduate together in January, 1948. As for the full-time group in Class C . . . I am lost."

The Class of 1950C has consistently outwhiffenpoofed those famous sheep in Morrey's. Somehow we managed to thread our confused, highly viscous way through the Northeastern corridors . . . to emerge, blinking and dazed, in the happy light of June, 1950. There is, however, a school of thought which stoutly maintains that we forgot to take our Sophomore year!

Bill Rubinovitz capitalized on the chaos which existed from the very start by slyly being excused from Freshman Physical Education . . . only to discover in his Senior year that he had to take it in order to graduate.

In our Sophomore year, still muddled and harassed by wartime schedules, we received Mr. Carlo Gubellini as Class Advisor. The social event of the year was the Soph Dance, which was held at the Commonwealth Country Club. Although a success socially, the affair lost money . . . no doubt largely due to the many students who didn't know they were Sophomores. George Graham, his trumpet, and orchestra provided the music, and Sherm Feller was M. C.

Even as early as Sophomore year we began to marvel at Dr. Havice's gift of classroom oratory and its useful application in talking his way out of tight spots. We also discovered that John Corcoran once got an "A," and it was in this Sophomore year. In retrospect, therefore, the year was a large success.

Middler year was even more perplexing than usual for most NUers. Not only did we become mildly deranged by trying to answer, "What is a Middler?" when asked by mothers, brothers-in-law, and old-maid aunts; but also we became aware of an undercurrent of faculty mumbling which sounded (when translated) something like this: "We'll be glad when they're gone. Just when we were beginning to understand the orientation of the Middler year in the Northeastern scheme of things . . ."

We elected popular Al diScipio, Class President for Division B. Dave Lawton became his "alternate."

After our annual promenade at the Hotel Puritan's Crystal Ballroom in January, we once again had to dip into our screaming treasury. The lost sheep who did find their way to the Prom had a mighty fine time dancing to Mal Hallet's music. Joe Banville danced with Jack Brazil's girl to win the waltz contest (Jack and Joe are still friends).

Just to point up further the tangled bewilderment attendant on our theoretical existence as a Class, Manny Panos became two people for a while and almost got expelled for it. Professor Schoonover had listed him on the records as both "Aristomenes Panos" and "Panos Aristomenes." Aristomenes kept cutting classes, and Manny kept the secret of the mysterious student to himself. The Professor eventually discovered it, and Manny's personality fortunately prevented his transferring to Wentworth.

Our next-to-last year saw John Gray become President in Division A, and B's Don Evans ran roughshod over an opposition composed of exactly nothing. The Parker House played host to our big feet as we danced our cares away in May at the Junior Prom. Larry Green and his music makers made with the refrains. Al diScipio's wife (but not at the time) won top honors in the beauty contest.

One month previous to the Prom we held a variety show in the Auditorium, with Larry Green and disk-jockey alumnus Nat Hentoff as guests. The N. U. husky, however, received the most attention and was voted the biggest wolf on the campus.

Senior year climaxed our seemingly endless toil. Hockey player Jim Reid was chosen President of Division B, while Arthur Romanelli captured corresponding honors in A.

Bob Schwarz became Treasurer for the third straight year despite the fact that we once caught him stealing third base.

We remember Professor Bruce aiming an accounting question at a dozing Ralph Nelson, who looked up, squinted, and murmured, "It's too early in the morning," and commenced to doze once again.

The big week in any college life was upon us before we knew it: Senior Week had arrived. The Week, crammed with outings, parties, and dances, culminated in the Senior Prom, which was held at the Hotel Somerset's Louis XIV Ballroom.

Graduation took place the following Sunday. Here we felt, perhaps for the first time, that we were no longer lost. At the very end we realized a certain cohesiveness in our Class because of our meanderings, although we almost immediately shook hands all around and started out upon our divergent paths.

We would return for fleeting reunions to let nostalgia wash over us, and no doubt would recall the collective sigh of relief which emanated from the patient faculty as the lost sheep of 1950C issued forth as better citizens into a troubled world.

Our sojourn had its unusual and commonplace, its serious and humorous, aspects. We added our own particular, sometimes peculiar, niche in Northeastern folklore. Come what may in our experiences in the rude, crude world, we would most certainly remember our ever-growing Alma Mater.

INDOOR TRACK

By John Adams

Although plagued by injuries to several starry plodders—a fact Coach Jerry Tatton has had to contend with almost every season—the Husky Indoor Track Team wrapped up two wins in five dual meets during the 1949-50 competition.

Two of last year's standouts, miler Paul Zappulla and 600-yard flash Jack Shea were troubled most of the year with pesky muscle pulls. Captain Bill Martin and speedy dash man, footballer Bill Aumen, were handicapped by lesser injuries but shared in the point-getting.

The Tatton splintermen tuned up for their season with a triangular informal meet at Cambridge against Harvard and Bastan University.

Sophomore sensation, tow-headed Sal Mazzocca, was the headliner. The glittering Medford ace was the only double winner for the day as he capped his specialties, the high and broad jumps.

In the first farmal meet of the year, the Huskies were outclassed by the strong Tufts runners—undefeated at home for ten years. The Jumbas were on top, 68½ to 43½. Springy Harry Kubic, performing with a taped leg, started his season's undefeated streak by winning the 45-yard high hurdles. Whiffle-haired Mazzocca tied the Cousen's cage broad jump record with a winning effort of 23 feet, 1½ inches. Harry Hart and Paul Zappulla ran secand and third respectively in the two mile distance.

Taking twelve af the thirteen events at Lewistan in the second meet of the seasan, the Tattonmen thumped Bates College, 93 ta 24. Dante Montouri, who took the shot put and the 35-pound weight heave, and Mazzocca, winner in bath the high and broad jumps, were the sale double victors. Nimble dash man Aumen showed his back ta the Bobcats' runners in the 40-yard hurdles. Hart lapped the pack in the two-mile run to win, and Zappulla copped the ane mile circulation.

The Red and Black dropped their third meet af the season, to powerful M. I. T., 72 to 36. Kubic again showed his invincible farm by breaking the six-second mark far the first time in his shiny collegiate career by winning the 45-yard high hurdles in 5.9 seconds.

Combating the fierce winter elements traveling to Amherst, the Husky runners chilled the University af Massachusetts, 71 to 40. Montouri showed the way for the Huskies. He took the 35-pound weight event and shattered the shot put recard. Despite a traublesame knee, Mazzocca walked off with anather double win—natching bath the high and broad jumps.

At Orono, the Northeastern trackmen were overwhelmed by Maine's fifty-man team, 77 ta 49, and closed out their creditable season. Kubic remained defeatless by winning the 45-yard high hurdles. Sprinter Aumen wan the dash and John Flannagan whisked across the tape to pocket the 280-yard run. Hippa Psyras handily wan the 600 specialty. Montauri and Mazzocca, season's high scoring dua, were beaten far the first time in twa years in the respective events—but it took recard-breaking performances to do the trick.

CROSS-COUNTRY ROUND-UP

By Ed Nankin

Coach Jerry Tatton's cross-country charges registered a subpar 2-5 record during the last season.

The first Red and Black appanent, the University of Massachusetts, possessed five leading runners who were grouped together for the fourth consecutive season. Therefare, it was not a surprise when they captured the season's first Franklin Park meet, 25-33. In lasing, however, ex-captain Paysan Kenyon, ace N. U. runner, handed the visitors' number one man, Lou Clough, his first loss in eighteen starts.

In its second hame start one week later Northeastern, without the services af Kenyon and a promising saphomore, Sumner "Curly" Hoffman, bowed ta New Hampshire, 25-33.

Undismayed by the lass at the hands af the Champs, the T-men traveled to Lewistan, Maine, for the next week's meeting with the Bates Babcats on their hilly, four-mile course. Although Kenyon was again unable ta compete, Harry Hart and Paul Zappulla finished ane, twa, to spark the Beantowners to their initial win of the campaign.

The twa following weeks proved unrewarding for the Red and Black. Twa losses were sustained: first, to the University af Connecticut, 24-32; second, ta Springfield, 26-33.

The Huskies chalked up their second win a week later at the expense of the comparatively impotent Worcester Polytech plodders, 24-33. Zappulla won the meet by eighty yards in 23:40.

Northeastern dropped its last dual meet af the season to Tufts, 24-33. Running like an expensive pair of nylans, N.U. concluded its season by placing thirteenth in the N.E.I.C.A.A.A.

The New Englands spelled finish to the cross-country careers af Kenyon, Hart and Goldman.

A past-season highlight included the election af Hoffman as next year's captain. The curly-haired saphomore from Winthrop was alsa the recipient af last fall's Most Improved Player Award presented by the NEWS.

The outlook for next season is extremely encouraging. The up-coming Frosh graup, according to Coach Tatton, comprises the best first-year material this school has ever had.

The same schedule is carded for next season.

BASKETBALL RESUME

By Stan Berezin

Sports history closed its pages on the 1949-50 Husky basketball season. The over-all mathematical record of this year's Red and Black hoopsters was unimpressive, But after a poor start, the Zabilskimen came back to produce a six out of ten slate for the last half of the season.

After the team dropped its first six contests, the Z-Men pulled out of their slump and soared for four straight victories over the University of New Hampshire, Hofstra, Clark, and American International. The other two wins came against M. I. T. and Worcester Polytechnic.

In a post-season benefit game, the Huskies continued growling, traveling to Marion, Massachusetts, to ground the Air Force's Otis Field quintet, previously undefeated in eighteen starts, by a 59-49 counter.

In an up-and-down year, the four-game winning skein, after a disastrous start, proved to be the highlight of the season. In this streak Hofstra College of Long Island made its Northeastern debut, resplendent with short-skirted cheerleaders, five-piece jazz band, as well as a highly regarded quintet. Undaunted by all this fanfare, the Huskies outfought the New Yorkers to win a thriller, 55-53. Against A. I. C., a record-breaking tally was registered as the Huskies rampaged, 77-61. The comeback powers of the Z-Men were further exemplified as they defeated M. I. T., which had topped the Red and Black earlier in the campaign.

The individual scoring records show that Fran Jackson, big pivot man, was the pacesetter, countering 148 points, followed by Al Radenhizer with 113, and Gene Neri's 98—all in sixteen games. Coach Zabilski had no standout scorer, as the tabulation shows that the points are well distributed.

In all, the Huskies scored 765 points, or an average of 48 points per tilt—as against their opponents' 873, or 55 points per contest. Captain Wally Keyes, Charlie Diehl, last year's captain, Most Improved Player Award winner Al Radenhizer, and John Butchard ended their basketball careers against the Coast Guard.

Gazing into the old crystal ball at next year's entry, we can see that help from the high-scoring frosh team plus a more experienced team will lighten Coach Z's task and possibly find a successor to the high-scoring twins of yesteryear: Tom Blair and Inga Walsh.

THE BASEBALL SEASON

By John Adams

Northeastern's 1949 baseball team, showing a delightful Meriwellian habit of pulling out extra-inning games, wound up the season with a mark of nine wins in eighteen tussles.

Getting off to a fast start, the Huskies, captained by Fran Matthews, racked up three straight wins in five days in April.

With stylish righthander Bob Bagwell pitching runless ball, Herb Gallagher's 1949 edition shut out Lowell Textile, 4 to 0, in the opener. The Watertown veteran mound ace scattered six singles while applying the fine coat of whitewash.

The second game of the season was an airtight pitchers' battle. Led by southpaw flinger Dick Sheldon, the N.U.'ers eked out a ten-inning 2 to 1 win over the University of Massachusetts.

Frank Rando, the roving Roslindale outfielder, pulled out Northeastern's second successive extra-inning victory with a single in the fourteenth frame as the Huskies dumped favored Boston University, 5 to 2. Bagwell, showing some clever pitching after relieving starter Arnie Johanneson in the eighth, notched his second straight win.

After bawing to Bates, the Gallaghermen roared back on the winning trail by salvaging another overtimer, 6 to 5, against Maine. Once again it was the clutch hitting of the bespectacled Rando and the relieving by Bagwell which told the jubilant tale . . . Rando scared Bagwell from second with a single after the latter had doubled.

Against M. I. T., Pitcher Bob Shepardson held the Engineers in check while the Huskies peppered two Tech pitchers for an easy 9-2 win.

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS: In the first game with the University of New Hampshire, the Red and Black iced the game with a lusty seven-run eighth inning rally and defeated the Wildcats, 9 to 6 . . . Workhorse Bagwell won his fourth game apposing Maine . . . Rando again came through in the clutch . . . The speedy left fielder singled in the winning run in the tenth . . . Bagwell pitched hitless ball in the final two and two-thirds innings to gain his fifth win . . . After appearing briefly in successful pinch-hitting roles in the first half of the season, Bob Schwarz took over the regular first base job . . . Captain Matthews was shifted to second . . . Schwarz's timely hitting and nifty fielding the rest of the season wan him Northeastern's coveted Most Improved Player Award . . . Bob led all regulars in hitting, with a .375 average . . . After a trial with the Boston Braves the Milton ace was signed by Scout Jeff Jones . . . On their annual trip North, the Huskies took two of three week-end games. They lost to New Hampshire, 8 to 4; but edged Colby 11 to 10 and swept their two-game series with Maine, winning the second fray, 10 to 9 . . . Bagwell was the heart of the pitching corps, notching five wins while losing four . . . Rando wielded the slugger's bat . . . The chunky outfielder smashed out three home runs and garnered the most hits . . . His batting average was a commendable .371.

HOCKEY ROUND-UP

By Stan Sadowdki

Ice mentor Herb Gallagher came up with another championship contender in the 1949-1950 season despite the loss of star Jimmy Bell and other stalwarts. Considering the numerous injuries which beset the youthful squad before it reached the New England League playoffs, the club's record of seven wins, nine losses and a tie was commendable.

Getting off fast with victories over Tufts 3-2, ond M. I. T. 8-6, the pucksters were then stopped by Dartmouth, 5-2, and the classy national champions from Boston College, 9-4. First-line center, Jack Heavey, was sidelined by a collision in the Eagles tilt. Also out at this time was winger Gordie Sterling, and Coach Gallagher had to come up with a new first wave, the surprising trio of Phil Doherty, Dave Bell and Jack Tucker.

In return matches with M. I. T. and Tufts, the Huskies scored repeat victories, running up a 10-4 count over the Beavers and a 4-2 margin over the Jumbos. B.C. scored a 7-3 win in their second engagement with the Red and Black.

Against American International College, the Husky icemen racked up an 8-6 triumph in the first meeting at Springfield. In the return game at the Skating Club, A.I.C. made a three-goal third period comeback to gain a 6-6 deadlock. The Gallaghermen solidly trounced the University of Massachusetts, 14-1, at Amherst in their lone encounter with the Redmen.

Boston University received a scare in their first set-to with the Huskies. Highly favored, the Terriers trailed 1-0 for two stanzas until they deluged the tiring G-Men with six markers in the final canto. B.U. captured the return clash, 5-4.

Harvard turned back the N.U. skaters twice. The first game was a close 5-4 contest which was not decided until John Carman tallied the winning Crimson goal at 11:25 of the third period. The second Harvard win was by a 6-3 margin.

In single contests the Gallagher charges edged Colby 6-5 and bowed to Brown, 7-2, and to Bowdoin, second place finisher in the New England League, 5-4.

Colorado-bound Boston University outclassed Northeastern, former playoff king, 11-2, in the New England League Playoffs. The Huskies fell to the hot Terrier sextet which played great hockey with its eyes on the national championship.

Husky high scorers for the season were centers Art Shannon (26 points), and Phil Doherty (17 points), and wingers Dave Bell (20 points) and Jack Tucker (18 points). Shannon dented the enemy strings sixteen times and registered ten assists. Bell scored thirteen goals and seven assists, Tucker nine and nine, and Doherty eight and nine.

Six pucksters concluded their Northeastern hockey with the close of the 1949-1950 season. Defensemen Bob Barry, Frank Bell and John Nason, winger Bob MacEwen, center John Heavey, and Goalie Larry Tilley will be missed on the Northeastern ice scene next season by their teammates and Coach Gallagher.

FOOTBALL RESUME

By Stan Sadowski

Coach Jae Zabilski, in his secand year as football mentar at Nartheastern, molded the holdovers fram the 1948 varsity and sophomores from last year's great frosh squad inta the best af the post-war Husky grid teams. Three triumphs in six starts were posted by the 1950 varsity eleven for a .500 season average.

A placement kick which hit the goal past and skidded crazily between the uprights was the margin by which N.U. lost, 7-6, to heavily-favared Tufts at Huntingtan Field in the season's opener on October 1.

In the opening period, the Huskies marched 86 yards in thirteen plays to draw first blaod. Veteran fullback Bill Murzic climaxed the drive with a five-yard plunge far the scare. End Bob G. Shea's extra point kick was blacked.

Capitalizing an a blocked kick in the secand quarter, the Jumbos needed just nine plays to knat the scare. This set the stage for Irv Schneider's decisive canversion.

An 80-yard punt return by sophomore Jahn Kelly and a 67-yard aff-tackle sprint by sophomare Al Balerna sparked the Zabilskimen to a 27-0 victary over Colby at Waterville, Maine, on October 8.

Veteran quarterback Jack Conray danced to paydirt an a 35-yard twister, and Balerna balted six yards through center for the other Husky TDs.

With a "Heap" of trouble an their hands all afternoon, Nartheastern went down in defeat, 14-7, ta Bates at Huntingtan Field on October 15.

On the first play from scrimmage, Al Balerna scared on a 64-yard off-tackle canter. Bab Shea split the uprights to make it 7-0.

Later in the periad, Walker Heap climaxed a 74-yard Bobcat drive with a five-yard TD pass to Dick Scatt. Stanwood Ladd's pass to Heap made it 7-7.

Heap faded back to pass early in the final quarter. He was apparently smathered by the hard-charging Husky forward wall, when he cut laose a high, arching, 50-yard aerial which nestled in the waiting arms of Fred Ienello in the end zone to win the contest.

Six players shared scoring hanors as Northeastern swept to its most impressive win in over a decade at Braaklyn, New Yark, an October 22, battering Braaklyn Callege 39-7 before 5,000 at the Callege Field.

Narm Rosenfield's six-yard smash and Jerry Edward's kick gave the home team an early lead. But the visitors exploded and piled it on.

Murzic, an a one-yard buck, end Sal Lombarda on a catch af John Connelly's tass, Kelly an a 57-yard pass interceptian dash, Cannelly on an eleven-yard quarterback sneak, Lea Gadbaut on a four-yard plunge, and Bill Aumen an a combined Connelly aerial and forty-yard sprint accounted for the Husky tauchdowns. Shea kicked two points and Aumen one.

New Hampshire displayed terrific pawer in humbling Nartheastern, 40-12, at Huntingtan Field on October 29.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Wildcats erupted for three TDs in the second periad, one af them on a blocked N.U. kick. Fram here on it was an all New Hampshire shaw as they continued to muscle and hammer their way through the Husky line.

Leo Godbaut tallied all the hame team's paints on two short bucks.

Bill Aumen, 145-pound scatback, led Nartheastern in upsetting Arnald, 25-13, at Huntington Field on November 5. It was the first game a Jae Zabilski coached eleven won an its hame field, and the win made the Alumni Day clash before a capacity crowd a great success.

Aumen scared twice, set up a third touchdown, did all the kicking off, and alsa made a conversian while in the game. John Connelly and Leo Godbaut made the other Husky TDs.

Nine Husky gridmen—Captain John Nasan, Ed Belfarti, Bob Hall, Jae Gramolini, Bill Cannors, Mike Koulopoulos, Jack Canray, Guido Barbierri, and Larry Tilley—donned Red and Black faotball uniforms far the last time in the Arnald tilt. Their teammates and Coach Zabilski will miss them all next season.
